ARTPGH + DESIGNPGH

Art + Design Public Meetings

What?

This is your first opportunity to meet the ARTPGH + DESIGNPGH Team in person. Learn about and provide input into the planning process for the City of Pittsburgh's first ever public art and urban design plans.

At these meetings we'll ask residents to provide input about the design and function of their neighborhoods. The team will discuss the general character, strengths, and weaknesses of our neighborhoods--from this we can start to craft policies to enhance our built environment.

We'll also present info about the ARTPGH + DESIGNPGH plans, including the process, goals, and projected outcomes of this exciting process.

Why?

We need to hear from you, the residents, about what makes your neighborhood special. In order to translate that special character into real policies that will help to preserve and enhance our neighborhoods, we need you to participate!

No prior knowledge of art or design is necessary!
