FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Pittsburgh (PA) - The City of Pittsburgh Commission on Human Relations would like to remind residents that our democracy works best when each person has the opportunity to share their values, ideas and aspirations in a peaceful manner.

The Commission encourages everyone to remain alert for instances of unrest or conflict related to the results of November 8th election. If anyone experiences, or is a witness to, any incident(s) which are motivated by bias based on someone's ancestry, color, disability/handicap, gender identity/expression, national origin, place of birth, and/or sexual orientation please contact law enforcement and notify the Commission as soon as possible.

The Commission is available to facilitate discussions on issues related to community tensions, and charged with working to enhance intergroup and community relations through outreach and educational activities. One of the Commission's goals is to promote greater awareness and appreciation for the cultural diversity of the city.
