Dollar Bank®

Since 1855

Mutually Inspired

The iconic Dollar Bank stone lions, originally carved by Max Kohler in 1871, have stood guard at the entrance of the Fourth Avenue building in downtown Pittsburgh since its doors first opened. In 2009, a restoration project began to return the lions to their original splendor after decades of weather related deterioration. The beautifully restored lions have been placed on display inside the historic building, safe from the elements. Over a two year period, two new lions were meticulously hand-carved out of brownstone by Master Carver Nicholas G. Fairplay and Brian C.E. Baker of Fairplay Stonecarvers. Working from early photographs, they are exact reproductions of the original lions. The new lions were installed outside of the building at Fourth Avenue in June 2013 and are ready for visitors!

From the Mayor

Dear Neighbors,

Parks are essential to our city's growth and they provide safe, free places that encourage healthful activity. For children, parks are an introduction to the wonder of the outdoors. For Pittsburghers of all ages, parks are our most democratic spaces—allowing people from all backgrounds to meet and interact.

Our four historic regional parks—Frick, Highland, Schenley and Riverview—have seen numerous improvements to facilities and programs that connect people to nature and events that draw us together. The plans for a new Environmental Center in Frick Park are well under way, as is a plan for restoring the watershed in Four Mile Run/Panther Hollow.

We are blessed with smaller community parks, too. Mellon Square Park, located in the heart of our urban center, is reopening after a large-scale renovation. In the Hill District, we join with our friends at the Pittsburgh Parks Conservancy to oversee a complete renovation of Cliffside Park to ensure great parks remain a key component of neighborhood renewal projects.

Citywide, we're doing all we can to ensure the equitable enjoyment of our great parks by everyone. Make time this summer to enjoy our many remarkable parks!

Sincerely,

William Peduto
Mayor

From the Director

Recreation remains an essential component in Pittsburgh's outstanding quality of life.

Summer is the perfect time to gather with neighbors for a community festival, relax at a movie under the stars or head out to the court, the course or the park for a little friendly competition.

Our 2014 summer schedule is overflowing with options, and many of these activities are absolutely free. To our many sponsors and partners, I offer a sincere thank you for making this impressive array of Citiparks events and programs possible.

This booklet serves as your official invitation to join the fun.
Enjoy another action-packed summer in the City of Pittsburgh!

Sincerely,

Riverview Park Heritage Day

Enjoy a day of adventure and exploration at Riverview Park Heritage Day!

This popular annual event showcases Riverview Park, an urban oasis just north of Downtown Pittsburgh that is home to the landmark Allegheny Observatory as well as an extensive network of trails enjoyed by hikers, joggers and horseback riders alike.

During the Heritage Day celebration, explore nature by viewing rare birds from the National Aviary and meeting furry friends from the Animal Rescue League and Humane Society. Stop by the Carnegie Science Center booth for a creative “make and take” activity: Balancing Robots!

Check out a Bomb Squad robot and tour a SWAT vehicle as the Department of Public Safety's SWAT, Police and Fire divisions offer interactive and educational experiences for all ages.

Throughout the park grounds, children take on the challenge of a bike rodeo, adults receive advice from health professionals and families tour the Observatory—to name just a few of the day's many activities. And everyone enjoys free refreshments.

The grounds of the Chapel Shelter—just a short walk from the Activities Building—are transformed into Fort Heritage! Children experience life on the American frontier by riding horses, painting totem poles, making trail mix, designing feather hair ties and much more.

Frick Park Junior Tournament Mini-Camp

A full-day Mini-Camp June 18-20 prepares local players, novice to veteran, for the excitement and rigor of tournament competition and offers a unique cultural exchange experience.

Paul G. Sullivan Championships

Formerly the “Pittsburgh Parks Championships”—held at the Frick Park Clay Courts since their inauguration in 1930—this tournament remains a memorable center stage of public park tennis in the City. Renamed in 2002 after longtime director Paul Sullivan, this legendary tournament has been revitalized since 2007 by the Frick Park Clay Court Tennis Club. The tournament is now USTA-sanctioned, but USTA membership is not required. Entries are open to men and women 16 years and older, both City and non-City residents. In 2013 more than 175 players participated, and an independent, local flex league voted it the best organized tournament in the City. Matches are held all day Saturdays and Sundays and on weekday evenings (all schedules posted online).
