

Art + Design Public Meetings

What?

We're hosting the second round of public meetings for ARTPGH and DESIGNPGH, the Public Art and Urban Design components of PLANPGH, the City's first comprehensive plan. These six "open house" meetings are conveniently located throughout the City so you can participate near where you live or work. This workshop format will also allow you to arrive at any time between 4 pm to 7 pm and to rotate through three 20-minute workshops. The three concurrent sessions will discuss the preliminary plan recommendations on public art, urban design, and neighborhood visions.

Why?

We need your feedback, because these plans will set in place policies and tools to guide the City in the areas of public art and urban design for the next 25 years. No prior knowledge of art or design is necessary!

Come tell us what yinz think!
