When you read with a child - Everybody Wins!

Children win by experiencing the joy of reading in a fun, stress-free environment. Each week students have the opportunity to build a relationship with their "Reading Buddy" and spend time reading or engaging in literacy-related activities. By combining books with the power of a positive, consistent relationship, Everybody Wins! sets children on a path towards a life-long love of reading and learning.

Volunteers win by building a fulfilling relationship with a child, sharing their love of reading, and experiencing the big impact a small commitment can make. Our Everybody Wins! mentors do not provide tutoring, but instead give their time and energy to connect with a child for what mentors often describe as the best hour of their week.

Educators win by gaining support for their work in the classroom that helps them to achieve their academic and behavioral goals for their students.

Companies and organizations win by providing a well-managed, fulfilling volunteer opportunity for their employees and members that reflects their investment in the local community.

It's easy. It's fun. It's worthwhile. It makes a difference.
