

PLI news and updates

In this edition of the newsletter, new permit checklists, new code interpretations, and license renewals.

Visit our Website

License Renewals

Even though we have switched to a 365 day license term, many licenses will expire on January 31 because of the 2016 renewal date. Once you renew this year, your license will expire on that date in 2018. We will be using the process established in 2016 to renew licenses.

The following licenses are subject to expire:

Mechanical Devices
Amusement Arcades
Vendors
Pawn Brokers

If you were issued a license after June 6th, 2016, your license will expire on the date of issuance in 2017.

Please email pliapptech@pittsburghpa.gov with any questions.

Permit Checklists

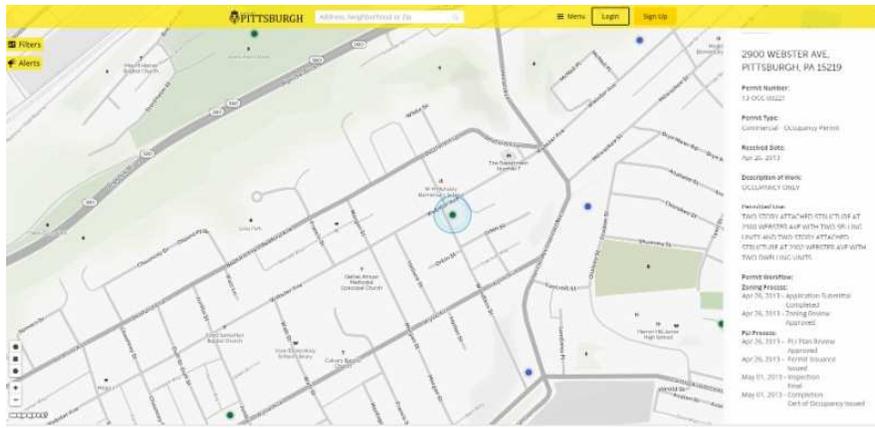

More permit checklists have been added to the website in addition to the Commercial Building Plan Review checklist. Please review before submitting a permit to make sure you have included all items on the checklist.

Residential Plan Review
Commercial Mechanical Plan Review

Additional information added to buildingeye

We have added contractor/licensed professional information for all permits and a more complete description for Occupancy only permits.

Code Interpretations

We have added more code interpretations to the website. As design professionals and contractors know, building codes leave room for different views on the same issue.

We have been publishing these to avoid confusion with application submittals so applicants know what to expect and how our department views those discrepancies.

Habitable Attic

Horizontal Exits

Community Forum

We are holding our 2nd Community Forum on January 11, 2017 at 9am in the Civic Building's 1st Floor Conference Room at 200 Ross Street.

Please RSVP.

This will be a monthly event held on the 2nd Wednesday morning of the month. Please sign up for the newsletter to receive invitations to the forum.

Newsletter Page

We have added a newsletter page on our website. There you can view past newsletters and sign up for the mailing list. If you have any colleagues or neighbors who would benefit from receiving the newsletter, please send them to the website or email julianne.reiland@pittsburghpa.gov

Want to know the status of a permit or code violations? Visit our new website to find out!