

The PLI Press

Monthly News and Updates

Believe it or not, it has been one whole year since we began sending our newsletter! Monthly, we reach nearly 700 residents, community groups, developers, contractors, architects, and City employees. Thank you for your patience and due diligence while we go through this transition period.

This month we are announcing our new Operations Supervisor, June Forum invitation, and more!

Visit our Website

We are hiring!

Visit the City jobs website to apply for our Construction Plans Examiner position!

New Inspector Ward Assignments

Meet Cori Merkel - New Operations Inspections Supervisor

Cori has been with PLI for 2 years as a Combined Operations Inspector. Throughout her two years in the field, Cori has gained invaluable experience and created community connections with the constituents she has served. Congratulate her on her new position by emailing her at cori.merkel@pittsburghpa.gov.

This month we will discuss pools and decks! Permitting Supervisor Dave Green will present the ins and outs of getting a permit to build a deck or put up a pool. Gather your neighbors and stop down at 9am, June 14 in our 1st floor conference room at 200 Ross Street.

For more affordable parking option, $9 all day spots are available at the Second Avenue Parking Authority lot. A shuttle runs to the corner of 1st Avenue and Ross Street which is a block from our office. The lot is cash only!

We are also a short walking distance from the 1st Avenue T Station.

Register here!

Strategic Code Enforcement Management Academy

We wanted to take a moment to thank all of the wonderful folks at the University of Memphis and Neighborhood Preservation, Inc. for having us at the first annual Strategic Code Enforcement Management Academy. We brought back many ideas and best practices and look forward to evaluating how those programs can be effective in the City of Pittsburgh!

High Ground news article about the academy

Our gracious faculty included Joe Schilling, Kermit Lind, Steve Barlow, Daniel Schaffzin, Patrick Dandridge, Michael Braverman, Brittany Williams, and John Cameron. Visit our Facebook for more photos from our trip!

City Website update

The City as a whole is updating our website! Through this process, we are organizing our information in a new layout that makes it easier to understand PLI processes and requirements. The new format is going to be more intuitive to users using modern website design. Please email any suggestions for what information you would like to see included or reorganization that would help navigate the website to julianne.reiland@pittsburghpa.gov

PLI | The City of Pittsburgh | 412-255-2175

STAY CONNECTED

