Happy new year from the Gender Equity Commission!

A century ago, women in the United States won the decades-long fight for the right to vote.

Mayor William Peduto has begun the celebration of the Centennial of Women Suffrage and is working with local volunteers to highlight the many Pittsburgh women who took on the cause and made radical change.

Rarely acknowledged for their integral part in the struggle for the vote, a contingent of Pittsburgh women mounted their own fierce campaign for suffrage and social justice.

Read more about the local celebration and discover the stories of notable Pittsburgh women on the website for Pittsburgh's Women's Suffrage Centennial:

Thanks to Gloria Forouzan of the Mayor's Office for her leadership in uplifting these local heroes who fought for gender equity!

The mission of the Gender Equity Commission is to achieve equity for women and girls in the City of Pittsburgh. Our vision is a future in which everyone in the City of Pittsburgh, regardless of gender identity or expression, is safe in all spaces, empowered to achieve their full potential, and no longer faces structural or institutional barriers to economic, social, and political equality.
